

Retail Matters case study:

Retail Matters is a nationwide campaign celebrating careers in retail and retail property, inspiring individuals working in the sector and the contribution Revo members make by investing and managing the space that enables fulfilling careers all over the country.

The experiences of people working in the sector are hugely valuable to showcasing the opportunities that wait in retail property.

Case Study – Person:

- Name, position and company
- Can you tell us what your role entails?
- Tell us how you ended up working in retail/retail property?
- Can you give us a brief description of your journey to your current position?
- What have been the highlights? What has been most surprising about your journey in retail property?
- Were there any challenges you'd like to highlight?
- Best thing about the retail property sector that people might not know?
- Any advice to people who might be curious about jobs in retail property but not sure where to start?

Please provide picture/media to help illustrate case study.

Thank you for your time!